Westring-Burriss.

The Brookland Baptist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding last evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Lenora Ethel Burriss, daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Burriss, became the bride of Mr. William Westring of Brooklyn, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. W. O. Millington. The church was decorated for the occasion with palms, baskets of white lilies and ferns.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Clarence E. Burriss, and was later given in marriage by her mother, was charmingly gowned in white georgette crepe, over white imperial satin, with pearl trimmings and duchess lace. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom, and her tulle veil was held in place by a bandeau of pearls caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Rainbow shades were carried out in the costumes of the bride's attendants. Miss Bertha L. Burriss, the maid of honor, wore pink chiffon over pink satin, with trimmings of tiny pink and blue rosebuds. She wore a picture hat of chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Miss Tabitha E. Burriss and Miss Lillian Dykes, two of the bridesmaids, were gowned in pale blue crepe de chine, and each carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Miss Minnie Nicholson and Miss Clara R. Burriss wore yellow crepe de chine and carried bouquets of white rosebuds. All of the bridesmaids wore large picture hats of chiffon.

Mr. Louis N. Bansept of Brooklyn, N. Y., was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Allen M. Laster, Paul Primm, Arthur Phelps and Dr. Rush W. Conklin.

Miss Isabel Jarvis Primm, organist of the church, played the wedding march and rendered suitable selections during the seating of the guests.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, 1837 Evars street, Brookland. The house was tastefully adorned with palms and white blossoms.

Mrs. Burriss, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Westring, the groom's mother, assisted in receiving the guests. The former wearing pearl gray silk and the latter white crepe de chine. Mr. and Mrs. Westring will go to Bermuda for their honeymoon, the latter wearing a modish traveling costume of dark blue tulle, with large white hat trimmed in water lilies and black velvet. Upon their return they will reside in Flatbush, N. Y.

Mix-Talmage.

One of the prettiest of the early summer weddings was that of Miss Frances Talmage, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Philip F. Harvey, and Mr. Francis Edward Mix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Mix, which took place yesterday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in the apartment of the bride's parents at the Parkwood.

Canon J. W. Austin performed the ceremony in the drawing room before an improvised altar formed of red rambling roses and palms.

Miss Alma Thomas sang several solos before the ceremony. Mr. Frank Norris Jones played the wedding march, and a Hawaiian orchestra played during the reception which followed.

The charming young bride, who was escorted and later given in marriage by Col. Harvey, wore a quaint old-fashioned ruffled gown of pussy willow tulle, made on a foundation of net. The skirt was ruffled to the waist with loops of ribbon forming the trimming between each ruffle. The pointed bodice had a square neck, showing a vest of pleated net in the front and had long net sleeves edged with ribbon.

Her court train of tulle was caught at the shoulders and weighted at the end with tiny ruffles.

She wore a tulle veil held with a narrow bandeau of net studded with orange blossoms.

A colonial bouquet of orchids and sweet peas, in a lace holder edged with maline, with a shower of lilies of the valley, was carried.

Miss Helen Lipscomb, who was the bride's only attendant, also wore an old-fashioned gown of pink combined with flowered chiffon, made with a full skirt, and the bodice finished with a schu of pink chiffon. Her large pink picture hat was trimmed with a tiny cluster of forget-me-nots and had long streamers of narrow black velvet ribbon.

She carried a colonial bouquet in a lace holder of shaded pink sweet peas, centered with a gardenia.

Mr. James Manaster Mason of Virginia acted as best man.

At the reception which followed, from 3 to 5, the newly married couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Harvey, mother of the bridegroom, who wore white of white pleated and ruffled net, with a corsage of tulle. Her large pink picture hat, of white georgette crepe, was trimmed with black wheat. Mrs. Mix, mother of the bridegroom, wore white georgette crepe, with a black lace and tulle hat.

Mrs. William Byron Palmer of Mount Vernon, N. Y., aunt of the bride, presided at the table in the dining room, and her gown was of blue and plaid tulle, with a smart blue hat trimmed with white feathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mix left late in the afternoon for their wedding trip, the latter wearing a modish gown of dark green, black and navy blue striped tulle, with a broad collar of white georgette crepe, and a becoming white hat, trimmed with navy blue grosgrain ribbon.

They will reside at the Parkwood on their return.
